Since launch. Source of data: UBP. Exchange rate fluctuations can have a positive or a negative impact on performance. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future results. The value of investments can fall as well as rise. Past performance figures are stated in the currency of the share class and calculated with dividends reinvested; they are free of ongoing charges. The calculation does not take into account sales commissions and other fees, taxes and applicable costs to be paid by the investor. For example, with an investment of EUR 100, the actual investment would amount to EUR 99 in the case of an entrance fee of 1%. At investor level, additional costs may also be incurred (e. g. front-end load or custody fee charged by the financial intermediary).

GLOSSARY

Additional Tier 1

Additional Tier 1 (also known as CoCo bonds) are typically perpetual debt. Issuers can repay the debt on pre-defined dates ("call dates") during the life of the instrument. An AT1, in the same fashion as other hybrid securities, has both debt and equity-like features embedded within its structure. AT1 debt pay coupons. Coupon payments are discretionary. They can be suspended by the issuer without triggering a credit event. AT1 are instruments that can transform into shares of equity or can be written off upon a triggering event. The trigger is a pre-defined limit expressed as a threshold of the issuing bank's capital ratio: typically low trigger (5.125%) and high trigger (7% or 8%). The trigger can also be activated by the relevant regulatory authority, if it considers that the bank faces risks of becoming non-viable, even though the trigger has not yet been reached: PONV (Point of Non Viability).

Duration

Duration assesses the sensitivity of interest rate changes or credit spread changes on the price of a bond or of the NAV of a bond fund: e. g. 3-year interest rate duration means that the value of a bond would increase by 3% if interest rates decrease by 1% and vice versa, 3-year credit spread duration means that the value of a bond would increase by 3% if credit spread decrease by 1% and vice versa.

Investment grade

A rating provides information about the creditworthiness of a debtor. The higher the rating, the less likely the debtor is to default. A distinction is made between high-quality (investment grade) and speculative bonds (high-yield or junk bonds). For investment-grade bonds, Standard & Poor's issues ratings from AAA to BBB, while Moody's ratings range from Aaa to Baa.

High-yield bonds

High-yield bonds pay a higher coupon than investment grade bonds because they are viewed by rating agencies and investors as more likely to default than investment grade bonds. For high yield bonds, Standard & Poor's issues ratings from BB to C, while Moody's ratings range from Ba1 to C.

Subordinated debt

A subordinated debt ranks lower than senior debt in case of liquidation. A subordinated debt ranks higher than equity in case of liquidation.
